New Water Main Will Soon Be Ready to Bear Share of Strain on Line

Big Water Main to Relieve Strain On Smaller Pipe Line

36-INCH CONDUIT WILL BE THOROUGHLY CLEANSED BEFORE WATER IS FORCED THROUGH ARTERY LEADING TO THIS CITY—TO BE ANALYZED

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Seventeen hundred feet of 36 in. water main recently laid between the waterworks pumping station west of Lorain and Penfield Junction, is undergoing a thorough cleansing by the hands of the employees of the waterworks department and by Monday pure lake water will be coupling its way through the big conduit.

As soon as the valves connecting the old and the new mains are opened, a portion of the heavy strain which has been inflicted on the old pipe line will be relieved and there will not be the danger of breaks to the main such as have occurred in the past.

However, before the new main can be placed in commission it will be necessary to remove all foreign matter from the heavy pipe and to accomplish this task it will be necessary to deposit several hundred pounds of chloride of lime in the big artery which will supply this city with water.

The material will be dumped in the eleven manholes leading to the main and water from the old main will be permitted to flow into the new one from one of the manholes until the main is filled with water, then it will be allowed to stand in the pipes for several hours, until the interior of the metal is free from dirt and filth.

Sunday and Monday the main will be drained and re-filled until it is absolutely clean, then pure filtered water will be admitted from the pumping station and before it is discharged into the old pipe line leading from Penfield Junction to this city, the city chemist will secure an analysis of the fluid to determine whether or not it is fit for human consumption.

If the water is found to be pure the valves will be opened at various points in the system and pressure will be applied to both mains.

Rains Due Next Week

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are:

Ohio Valley and Tennessee, Temperatures normal or above; considerable cloudiness and occasional rains.

Regions of the Great Lakes: Temperatures normal or above; considerable cloudiness and occasional rains and snows.

HENRY NEIPFOOT PROVED HIS GARAGE
HAD BEEN BROKEN INTO AND CIDER
STOLEN BEFORE HE DECIDED THAT IT WAS TIME TO MOVE IT ELSE-WHERE

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Henry Neipfoot of this city convinced Mayor ones this morning that no attempt had been made to violate the prohibition laws when four barrels of cider belonging to the defendant were transported over the streets of this city.

Neipfoot presented a section of the door to the garage in which the liquor had been stored, to prove that someone had forced an entrance to the building and that a quantity of the cider had been stolen by unknown persons.

It was to protect his property from further depredations that Neipfoot decided to convey the barrels to his new home on the Abbey road, intending to secure permission to convey the cider to that point before permitting it to be moved from the premises.

After it had been loaded on the truck he went to change his clothes before visiting police headquarters and the Lorain County Auto club office, where he was to apply for a 1921 license plate, and while donning another suit of clothes, Neipfoot was informed that his employees had proceeded on their way with the load and had been apprehended by the police.

Neipfoot blames a woman on Riverdale court for causing all the trouble, accusing her of calling up the police department in order to get even with him for using his property as a storage yard.

After advising the defendant that he should have secured permission to move the cider to its new location and warning Neipfoot to be very careful that he did not sell any of the beverage in an unlawful manner, the case against him was dismissed and he was permitted to convey the cider to the Abbey road house.

WITNESS SLEPT
AS JURY WAITS
SENT TO JAIL

Lorain Man Fails to Report to Prosecuting Attorney, But Has Delightful Snooze

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Prosecuting Attorney Webber yesterday afternoon caused the arrest of Calvin Cooper, 218 Eleventh street, Lorain, on a charge of failure to appear as a witness before the grand jury, after being subpoenaed to testify in a case in which he was wanted as a witness.

Cooper told Judge Thompson that he was notified by the Lorain police yesterday that he was wanted, and that he came to Elyria, went into Court Room No. 1, laid down on a back seat and slept for four hours, then went home. He said he did not know where to go, and told no one he was present.

Judge Thompson fined him $10 and costs and five days in jail, as an aid to his memory.

Suspicious Characters Rounded Up
By the Police Late Friday Evening

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Three suspicious characters were picked up near the Troxel building on Washington avenue late last night and two of the suspects admitted that they had not lived in any one place for a longer period than two months, during the past seven or eight years.

These two youths did not know where the other members of their respective families resided, or whether or not they were alive and could not even remember the names of the men by whom they had been employed during the past few years.

The third member of the party was a married man in search of work, having left his wife and child in Chicago while traveling around the country and he wept bitterly as he told a hard luck story to the mayor.

They were each fined $5 and costs, but the one who repented will probably be given an opportunity to return to his old home town, as he has received pretty rough treatment since leaving the windy city.

WHO REQUESTED THAT WIFE BE CHARGED WITH LAW VIOLATION

LOUIE BALOUGH SAYS HE REMONSTRATED WITH HIS BETTER HALF AGAINST OPERATING BIG STILL, BUT SHE REFUSED TO HEED TIMELY WARNING AND ARREST FOLLOWED

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Louie Balough of 354 West River street, in whose rooms was discovered a huge copper still full of rasin mash yesterday afternoon, was fined $500 and costs by Mayor Jones this morning and will probably have to serve out his time in jail, as he has been out of work for some time. He requested the court to charge Mrs. Balough with violation of the liquor law.

Balough admitted that he knew the still was being operated by his wife, whom he claimed was driven to it in an effort to secure rent money, although he remonstrated with her and informed her that he would not be mixed up in the deal.

Mrs. Balough was quite anxious to shoulder all the responsibility in connection with the illicit still and testified that she had done all the plumbing, connected the water and gas pipes and even purchased the rasins from which the liquor was distilled.

Both of them maintain that the still was brought to this city from Cleveland it having been taken as security for a $90 bond bill contracted by a man who formerly roomed at the Balough home.

When the mayor inquired of Fuka if his wife knew that the still was in the garret of their home, he replied, "my wife don't know anything," much to the amusement of the concealed males who grinned at the fair sex attending the hearing.

Park Commission
Outlines Program
For Ensuing Year

WILL SPEND $1,000 TO PROVIDE THE NECESSARY EQUIPMENT FOR BASEBALL, TENNIS AND PLAY GROUNDS—ZOO MAY BE ENLARGED THIS SPRING

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Cascade park will attract larger crowds than ever this coming summer according to the members of the park commission, as eight acres of land will be available for ball parks, tennis grounds as well as ample room for the children to enjoy the $1,000 worth of equipment which will be installed this spring.

Two ball grounds have been leveled off and sodded and will be available as soon as frost is out of the ground this spring and will afford an excellent place for this popular sport. A concrete backstop with the necessary screen will also be provided.

Two or possibly three tennis courts will be laid out and put in shape for those who enjoy this fascinating game, as well as eight or ten courses where quail pitchers may hurl the horeshoes.

It is proposed to equip the playground with a merry-go-round, a double coaster with thirty foot slides, capable of accommodating 150 coasters a minute, providing they lose no time in getting under way, 12 foot kindergarten slide for the smaller children, a giant slide, an ocean wave and a miniature swing for infants.

Aside from this apparatus there will be sand piles for the little tots to play in and mothers who accompany their children to the park may sit down and rest while their offspring enjoy themselves. It is possible that the zoo will be further increased by a couple of antelope and a den of coons, these animals having been offered the park commission if it cares to accept them.

May Enlarge Park
There are now about 45 acres of land included in the confines of Cascade park and an effort will be made to secure a similar number of acres on the east side of the river, embracing a tract of land from the falls to the narrows at extreme northern end of the present park.

It is believed that the residents of Washington avenue would be willing to donate this land for park purposes, providing an entrance is provided from Washington avenue, in order to allow pedestrians to enter the park without trespassing on private property as is being done nowadays.

May Acquire Land
The city realizes that it made a great mistake in not purchasing Ellywood when the opportunity was presented a few years ago, and it is the general opinion that unless a strip of land along the east side of the river is soon secured, the general park plan outlined by the park commission, cannot be carried out.

The land in question is of little value, save for its natural beauty and for this reason, many believe, the city should take steps to secure it for future generations, according to the park board.

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Mrs. George Wells, aged 45 years, of 402 Lodi street, passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Mrs. Wells has been a resident of this city for the past ten years and leaves a host of friends, who are deeply grieved.

British Submarine Lost With All on Board While Off Land's End—Cause Unknown

LYONDON, Jan. 22.—The British submarine K-2, Commander John A. Gaines, was lost with all hands, Thursday at the approaches to the English Channel, the admiralty announced this afternoon.

The complement of the lost submarine was not given, but vessels of this class carry approximately six officers and fifty men.

The disaster occurred 100 miles off Land's End. A full complement of officers and men was aboard. The K class of submarines is the latest type of British submarines, the vessels being 338 feet in length with a surface speed of 24 knots and speed submerged of nine knots. They carry eight torpedo tubes one four inch gun and one three inch gun. The cause of the disaster is not known.

Available naval manuals do not reveal the tonnage or dimensions of the "K" class of submarines, which were vessels of war construction. They are known as fleet submarines with a length of 300 to 350 feet. They were built especially for cruising at sea with the grand fleet.

When the mayor inquired of Fuka if his wife knew that the still was in the garret of their home, he replied, "my wife don't know anything," much to the amusement of the concealed males who grinned at the fair sex attending the hearing.

MOTHER OF FOUR ASKS DIVORCE

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Mary Dorezo, of Lorain, has filed divorce proceedings in court against Pasquale Dorezo, on the ground of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty.

In giving his decision Judge Thompson vindicated Mr. Champney from the charges made in her cross petition by Mrs. Champney, and stated that she condoned any offenses he might have committed when she returned to live with him after having once left him.

Mrs. Champney was given $200 alimony to care for the expenses of the trial.

Prominent Elyrian,

Mrs. Wells was also affiliated with the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Knights of St. John.

Claims Discussion
New Administration

PRECEDENCE FOR WORLD DISARMAMENT SHOULD BE TAKEN UP AFTER RATHER THAN BEFORE NEW ADMINISTRATION TAKES OFFICE—NATIONS OF WORLD WAIT, HE SAYS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The question of total or partial disarmament should not be discussed by the United States with other nations pending a change of administration Mar. 4, Elihu Root, who helped to form the international court of arbitration under the league of nations, declared today in a letter to Chairman Butler of the house naval committee.

The precise method of procedure, Mr. Root said, ought to be determined after and not before Mr. Harding and his secretary of state have an opportunity to inform themselves as to the way which aords the best prospect of success.

Favors Movement
Mr. Root declared his strong belief that steps would be taken promptly after the new administration is established to bring about a general agreement for disarmament.

Writing Chairman Butler under date of January 20, Mr. Root said: "I have your letter of January 24, asking an opinion to aid your committee in considering an estimate for additional ships of war, requiring for their completion the sum of $107,177,000.

"I do not feel like hazarding an opinion as to what reply other governments might make to a suggestion from our government for the appointment of a representative to meet for the purpose of discussing the question of total or partial disarmament.

"I feel strongly that steps should be taken promptly after the new administration is established to bring about a general agreement on that question. It is plainly impracticable to accomplish this before the change of administration.

Explains Position
The precise method of procedure through which the attempt should be made I think ought to be determined after and not before Mr. Harding and his secretary of state have had an opportunity to inform themselves and to reach conclusions as to the way which affords the best prospect of success. Action on your part based upon any opinion which you can form now as to the best method of procedure might prove to be just the wrong thing and might create obstacles to success instead of helping it along.

"The subject is especially difficult because of the disturbed condition of eastern Europe and it is difficult because too many nations have special apprehensions of danger against which they wish to guard. The new administration will soon learn what is the best way to deal with these difficulties. It may be that they cannot all be dealt with in the same way or by the same process.

"I think this expresses my view as fully as I could do if I were to go to Washington and appear before your committee."

Mr. Root's letter was presented to the naval committee today by Chairman Butler, who emphasized that it was not the purpose of the committee in seeking the best judgment of the country to make a declaration of its own on the question of disarmament.

"We are simply trying to get the views of men like Mr. Root," said Mr. Butler, "and it is not our purpose to embarrass the present coming administration or attempt to tie the hands of President-elect Harding."

Secured Two Guns
In Reese Home
Last Night

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—The law which provides a penitentiary sentence for anyone who carries a concealed weapon, has no terrors for the burglar who entered the home of J. T. Reese, 1213 West avenue some time last night.

Among the articles missing from the home are two revolvers, one of the type generally toted around by burglars and in addition to the guns, the burglar rifled a desk of about $5 in change.

The prowler entered the home by the front and left by a side door.

THE SACREDNESS OF THE HOME IS PROTECTED

We now hear from the enemies of enforced prohibition that we want to "protect the sacredness of the home."

While there are men who are really sincere in the position they take along this line, the elements really leading the opposition are those that have brazenly invaded and destroyed everything sacred in the home for the last fifty years.

We would call the attention of those interested in this question to the fact that under the new Enforcement Bill now before the Ohio Senate, no inspector is legally permitted to enter a private home. He is no more allowed under this bill to do so, than he will be should the bill not pass.

This bill declares that "a place where condensed milk is held, or being sold or manufactured is not a private home." Therefore, if a man is not guilty of any violation he can defend his residence against the invasion of liquor inspectors, as such an inspector would enter at his peril and without the protection of the law. If, if the householder is guilty, he is under the protection of the law and the inspector has the right to enter.

In this way only can the law be properly enforced.

H. A. DYKEMAN, FIRE MARSHAL

Wednesday of this week Mr. H. A. Dykeman of this city took up the duties of fire marshal of the state. Mr. Dykeman was one of the first appointments of Governor Davis. The duties of a fire marshal are numerous and the work valuable, important and arduous, providing the fire marshal fulfills the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

We believe that in the appointment of Mr. Dykeman, Governor Davis has selected a man who will perform the duties of the office in a manner leaving nothing to be desired by anyone desiring for efficiency and square dealing.

Mr. Dykeman is one of the best known men in Lorain county. He was born and raised in Elyria and is truly a Lorain county son never having lived anywhere else than Elyria. He is known as a public spirited citizen, a consistent republican, a loyal friend and honorable and upright man. We believe that no appointment could be made for any office by any man from Lorain county which would give more universal satisfaction.

We congratulate the State of Ohio and Lorain county on this selection.

TAKE A TIP FROM BEN

Right now our school children are hearing a great deal about Ben Franklin, one of the very best Americans who ever lived. They are being told nine things Ben Franklin said. Among them is this gem:

"If you're in debt, spend less."

It is all right to preach it to them when we know we aren't practicing it.

The nation is in debt—heavily in debt. We have a deficit of two billions of dollars this year. And we are doing this:

"Our naval estimates for 1921 are nearly $10,000,000, as compared with naval appropriations of about 400,000,000 in Great Britain and about $150,000,000 in Japan."

There are three and a half million children living in Europe. Herbert Hoover says less than the cost of one modern battleship would save the lives of these children.

Who do you think Ben Franklin would talk to if he were here today? To the American people, or to members of your Congress?

GROUNDHOG DAY IN HOLLAND

POUR ON THE OIL

Friction immediately developed in the Oil Department when forty men were ordered dismissed as Inspectors of Oil.

The reason for the controversy it is said is because they cannot get the oil to move without the inspectors. It is a poor department to complain of friction.

Fifty Years Ago

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Five prisoners were in the county jail. All were colored, and all were from Oberlin. The editor stated that some of them behaved as badly as white folks.

Clark & Co.'s Elyria candy factory was doing a large business. In eight months they had manufactured and sold thirty-nine tons of plain candy and twenty-three tons of so-called French candy. Their goods went all over the country.

A Y. M. C. A. had been opened in a room in Ely block. The only time it was open was on Friday night. An appeal was made for reading material.

Hon. James Monroe, of Oberlin, minister to Brazil, delivered a lecture at the town hall on "The Resources of Brazil."

The Lorain County Agricultural society's annual report stated that they had received $2,000 the past year and paid out $1,000 in premiums.

After fighting the world all day, a man is too often compelled to fight his women folks at night.

The people never respond so easily and promptly to the propaganda of leaders as they do when there is a patriotic issue, and leaders are always bringing it up. The dullest man loves to be told that his great heart throbs for the oppressed everywhere; it causes him to glow as nothing else does. He is keen to bring liberty to the world. There is a thrill in patriotism found in chivalry, music, gallantry, bravery, devotion, etc., and men are easily influenced with this theme.

The people are forever asking too much: failing to get it, they often go to war, and destroy what they have.

Tempests, earthquakes, are a part of nature, and we may at least guard against them to some extent; and they have not been so numerous that the world's population does not increase rapidly. Epidemics, wars, are preventable; our efforts will help, if directed simply and naturally.

Map of the state of Fiume, whose independent status has been established by the treaty of Rapallo, recently signed by Italy and Yugoslavia. D'Annunzio refused to recognize the treaty, but was forced to yield.

This seems to have been written on the Fiume incident. Gabrielle D'Annunzio's foolhardy attempt to hold the territory for Italy in defiance of his own government and the treaty of Rapallo has failed. General Cavaglia, at the head of regular Italian troops, recently took possession of the city proper. Fiume and adjacent territory was declared an independent state under the treaty of Rapallo. It remains such.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21.—Tonics, elixirs, "cold cures" and all such beverages and remedies containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol must disappear from the bars of all saloons and other soft drink places in Cincinnati.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—Jay Gould, national amateur and open court tennis champion, today won the professional championship of America by defeating Jock Boutar of the Philadelphia Racquet club, 6-0, 6-2.

"I'd hate to be called out of a good, warm home to go to Marion, Ohio, a day like this," said Squire Marsh Swallow today. Heart's heart dancin' has been cut out at K. O. P. hall.

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—The members of the Wellington District Holstein Breeders' Association and members of the Lorain County Farm Bureau are co-operating this year in interesting the boys of the rural districts of the county in raising calves in calf clubs during the coming summer.

The boys of Penfield township have organized for another year. Glen Rollin who won the championship among the Penfield boys last year was elected president for the coming year. Carl Myers another member was elected secretary. Mr. Easterday who has two sons in the club was elected as township leader. Several of the boys of Penfield township have also organized a pig club for the coming year. The objects of each of these clubs is to secure good stock for future breeding which will assist materially in bettering the standard of livestock in the township in the near future.

Boys living in the Wellington district outside of Penfield township who desire to enroll in club work should see Mr. W. R. Shepard, secretary Holstein Breeders' Association, Wellington, or County Agent H. Rogers, Elyria.

Lorain Has Two Leather Lunged Newspaper Boys

LORAIN, Jan. 21.—Did you ever take notice to the big newsboy, that sells Chronicle-Telegrams, at the Loop or Four Corners? His name is "Fog-Horn" Link, and he sure lives up to his name, as he sure sounds like a fog-horn, when he starts bellowing, his wares. Link stated today that he sells a good many Chronicle-Telegrams every day, and that he experiences no trouble in getting rid of his quota.

The Chronicle-Telegram, also have another "Leather-Lunged" merchant, who sells at the corner of Pearl Avenue and 28th street, and is always ready to meet competition when necessary.

Both of these boys were formerly news boys at Cleveland, and have gained quite a name for themselves as hustlers. The corner merchants of the Chronicle-Telegram average from sixteen to thirty-two years of age. Link being just twice as old as the youngest newsboy.

Automobile Show Edition, 1921

THIS week is expected to mark the beginning of lively car buying among Lorain County dealers. Each dealer has a display of the various models of the car he represents and with the added interest of the Cleveland show being attended by a great many people from this territory, things are expected to boom now.

Dealers report that they have more inquiries about cars than ever, and that the public apparently is only waiting to see the show. Many will then make selections and buy, with the result that spring will see a car shortage dealers think.

It will pay the readers of The Chronicle-Telegram to read every advertisement in this auto show number as the list of cars, accessories, etc., is very complete and every dealer is on tip-toe to serve the motor public.

Watch Gasoline Pumps; Autoists Given Warning

STATE BUREAU OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES ADVISES FILLING STATIONS NOT ALWAYS WORKING WELL EARLY IN DAY

There's an old and trite saying that the "early bird gets the worm," but the early bird at the filling station may not get as much gasoline for his auto as the driver who buys later, according to the state bureau of weights and measures.

"It has long been known to inspectors that a great number of pumps deliver short measure on their first operations in the morning, or after standing unused from four to six hours," says a statement issued by the bureau. "This shortage is caused largely by a sediment which collects under the float valve allowing a certain amount of the liquid to leak back into the supply tank."

Many of the larger oil companies operating service stations realize this and compel their employees to make a operation and test their pumps each morning before a sale is made, it is pointed out. The bureau urges that the practice be followed by all service stations.

Six Rules for Buying
Very few people make any effort to protect themselves in the purchase of commodities through automatic pumps, inspectors for the state bureau find. They suggest that the autoists observe six things when buying gasoline and see if their gasoline doesn't seem to last longer.

First—When the hose is placed in the filling can, see if the piston of the pump starts from the bottom.

Second—See that the gasoline begins to flow from the hose after the handle of the pump has made two revolutions if not you may be getting short measure on the first gallon out.

Third—Watch the flow of gasoline from the hose. A steady stream should flow when the handle of the pump is in motion. If there is an air leak in the suction pipe the gasoline will not flow steadily, but will show a puff of air and stoppage of the flow for a fraction of a second. In this case you are being short-measured or the pump is dispensing a portion of air instead of gas.

Get Drainings

Fourth—See that the operator raises all parts of the hose to an elevation two feet higher than the nozzle of the hose where placed in the filling can. This draining belongs to you and often amounts to half a gallon.

Fifth—See that the pump bears one of the state's aluminum tags seals as evidence that it has been tested and approved.

Sixth—Report to the county auditor any unsealed pump or device which in your opinion is in accurate.

About 30 per cent of the automatic pumps in use today give incorrect measure the bureau says. About five per cent of these give too much and the other 95 per cent is not full measure.

HEAVIER FRAME IN OAKLAND

The heavier chassis of the 1921 Oakland models will make it one of the most popular models of the coming year, is the belief of the Lepper Co., Elyria distributors.

The 1921 chassis is heavier than that of past models, making a more sturdy and compact job.

The three-inch longer wheelbase and longer springs in the new Oakland series are two factors in giving it comfort and easy-riding characteristics, say its supporters.

The valve-in-head motor in use for the past five years, is found in the new cars. There are no changes in the engine.

The open models have curtains that swing with the doors. Both of the closed cars are equipped with heaters.

Out of present conditions, the Stephens is rising to an even higher plane of public confidence.

For more than fifty years, many of them devoted to Stephens cars, this institution has grown stronger and the allegiance of its friends has grown firmer.

Through periods of inflation and depression it has always maintained its high quality ideals. This is why, over the length and breadth of the country, people have learned to put their whole trust in the Stephens Car and the institution behind it.

And today, this is the greatest asset a motor car can have.

There is no doubt in anyone's mind as to the intrinsic value of the Stephens product. Its wonderful records of performance and economy and the records of its builders protect the Stephens owner and fortify the Stephens dealer.

Purchases are now made on sound business judgment; on analysis of value; on positive proof of fine engineering, and on the stability of the builders.

DODGE POLICIES TO STAY SAME

The same policies and principles under which the Dodge Brothers business has grown, will continue to dominate it for all time, Leo R. Meyer, local distributor, says he has been assured by the Detroit plant executives.

The greatest expansion program in the history of this great industry is in progress, Meyer says. New buildings, now practically complete, cost approximately $8,000,000.

000. With the finishing of more than thirty construction projects now under way, this plant will have a new total floor area of 1,250,000 square feet.

This typifies Dodge Brothers' confidence in the future and the perpetuation of the same high ideals of the past, says Meyer.

The first automatic in the Garden of Eden was a Ford. Look what Adam and Eve missed by not arriving a little later on.

When General Emmanouel Zymbarkis, Green Commander-in-Chief of Thrace, visited the destroyed village of Makle, he rode through the streets in a Ford car.

1921 TO BE ANOTHER YEAR FOR STUDEBAKER

Nineteen twenty-one will be "Another Studebaker year."

Not since 1918 when the Studebaker Co. came out with its new model series, has the outlook for the line been so bright, says Cliff Wise, head of the Elyria Auto Service Co., Studebaker distributor here.

Conclusive evidence that 1921 will be "Another Studebaker year" is the increased volume of sales by the Elyria Auto Service Co.

The popularity of the Studebaker line, to which has been added new models, including the Light Sixes, and continued honest service and dealing will make 1921 "Another Studebaker year," declares Wise.

PAIGE CLIMBED PIKE'S PEAK

The Lakewood, the car that climbed Pike's Peak recently, is the latest Paige motor creation that D. D. Smith and his organization of Andrews & Smith are pinning their 1921 hopes to.

"Printed descriptions of the car fail to adequately put across its fine points. The only way to show it off is to demonstrate it," declares Smith. "We are handicapped here because there are so few hills near Elyria."

The Lakewood has the new model chassis and motor.

Smith declares that it develops reserve power at from five to 25 miles and from 25 to 30 miles per hour, it continues to show unusual power increases. Its brake horse power is well within the range of any obtainable speed on the road. A seven-passenger sedan is another body type on the Model 600 chassis.

The construction is all that is expected of the Oldsmobile factory with its twenty-three years of proven successes in building up to the Oldsmobile standard.

MANY SOCIAL EVENTS ON CALENDAR FOR NEXT MONTH

LORAIN, Jan. 22.—Despite the fact that February is the shortest month of the year, it promises to be one of the most enjoyable and largest in Lorain social circles this year. Already many dances and other festivities are being arranged, and the greater part of them will be given on Lincoln's birthday, February 12th, and Washington's birthday on February 22nd. Both are legal holidays and there will be a number of social and fraternal organizations to hold affairs.

Valentine day, February 14, will also come in for its share of festivities and this holiday in social circles is one of the prettiest to be observed. Dan Cupid will be the master of the ceremonies at St. Valentine functions and the decorations are always fetching and artistic in harmony with the event celebrated.

Following the February festivities, St. Patrick's day, March 17, will also be fittingly and elaborately celebrated in Lorain. Already preliminary plans are being made by several local organizations to pay tribute to the Irish and to the patron saint who is alleged to have driven the snakes from old Ireland. The color scheme at the festivities will be in keeping with the legend of old when fluting green, the Irish harp and shamrock will again be in evidence.

MANNISH VELVET JACKET IS SMART WITH WOOL SKIRT

This smart outfit, designed for sports wear in the early spring, is being shown now for southern tourists. It is only one of many such outfits which are taking with the younger set. Some very charming effects are to be had by the combination of these mannish jackets in some solid color worn with skirts which are striped, barred or plaided. Here the coat is black velvet and the skirt is striped wool.

GRASS MULCH SYSTEM STOPS SOIL EROSION

WOOSTER, Jan. 21.—Soil erosion in hilly orchards may be avoided by following a grass-mulch system of soil improvement rather than the cover crop method, in which a leguminous crop is plowed or disked into ground.

Where the cover crop method is used the soil washes rather easily during a rainy season and leaves deep gullies in the orchard. With the grass mulch system each tree is fertilized with 5 pounds of nitrate of soda and 3 to 5 pounds of acid phosphate annually, this being sufficient to stimulate the growth of mixed grasses and legumes, so that a heavy sod is developed, which prevents soil washing.

The grass mulch system of culture with fertilization has been less expensive and so far has produced more apples per acre than the cover crop method of culture in tests made by the Ohio Experiment Station.

Claims Thomas Bass

the city jail this morning by Chief of Police Theodore Walker, upon the failure of Detroit police to arrive to serve their warrant.

In her statement to Heddington, the insurance company adjuster, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Morris said that she lived in a rooming house in Detroit run by Bass' cousin, and it was while living there that she became acquainted with the Lorain man.

She said Bass came to her and told her that he was broke and did not have enough money to buy gasoline and gave the machine to her and her sister.

She said that was last August and that lately she loaned the machine to her husband in Columbus. She said her husband was but lately arrested in Washington, D. C., charged with running booze, and with the theft of the machine. When the police at that town arrested Morris they investigated and found the machine was listed as stolen by the insurance company.

Was Early Arrest
Mrs. Morris told the adjuster that she came to Lorain last Wednesday night to get a bill of sale from Bass to free her husband of the auto stealing charge against him in Washington, D. C.

She says upon her arrival here she phoned Bass who told her he would meet her in the Hotel Lorain lobby at 10 p. m.

Bass arrived, she says and got her a room at the hotel with the explanation that he would meet her in the morning.

She says that at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning the police placed her under arrest.

VEGETABLE NOVELTIES DISAPPOINT GARDENERS

WOOSTER, Jan. 21.—Table quality and disease resistance are the two most important features to be observed when selecting varieties of vegetables for the home garden, according to J. B. Kell, of the Ohio Experiment Station.

Other desirable qualities are productiveness, attractive appearance and adaptation to soils; but the first two are quite essential to successful garden culture. So-called "novelties" are often disappointing. Renaming of old varieties and advertising them as novelties is an injustice to the gardeners.

The standard varieties should not be abandoned in favor of novelties without careful trials made beforehand.

CADILLAC PUTS UP NEW PLANT

The Detroit Cadillac Co. will be in the new $15,000,000 plant within the next few months, states D. D. Smith, of Andress & Smith, Lorain and Medina county distributors.

The world. The Cadillac Automobile show display will be one of the most complete in the exhibition. It will consist of a roadster, seven and four-passenger touring car, four-passenger victoria, seven-passenger suburban and a five-passenger special sedan.

These are a continuation of Model 59.

Smith points out that the same chassis is used on this year's Cadillac as that of six years ago. The only difference lies in a few minor improvements.

No changes in the Cadillac are necessary," says Smith. "The same motor is in use which has proved to be an investment for any purchaser."

FORDSON TRACTOR MAKES RECORD RUN

Stopping only for gasoline and oil, a Fordson tractor owned by N. Korpua, of Ludden, Dickey county, North Dakota, recently completed a record run of forty days, states J. H. Simpson, local Fordson dealer. Three operators were assigned to the tractor, each working an eight-hour shift, and thus keeping the tractor in operation twenty-four hours a day. "Nine hundred acres were plowed without one minute's stop for repairs," says the affidavit received by the Ford Company from the Fordson owner.

The tractor was purchased during the summer of 1919. In the spring of 1920, Korpua began his plowing and had already turned 200 acres before he conceived the idea of working the tractor day and night.

Electric head lights were installed, operators were obtained, and with no further special preparations, the little Fordson entered upon what turned out to be a record run for endurance.

NO SPEED LIMIT FOR TAXES IN CUBA

Havana, Cuba, claims the dis-

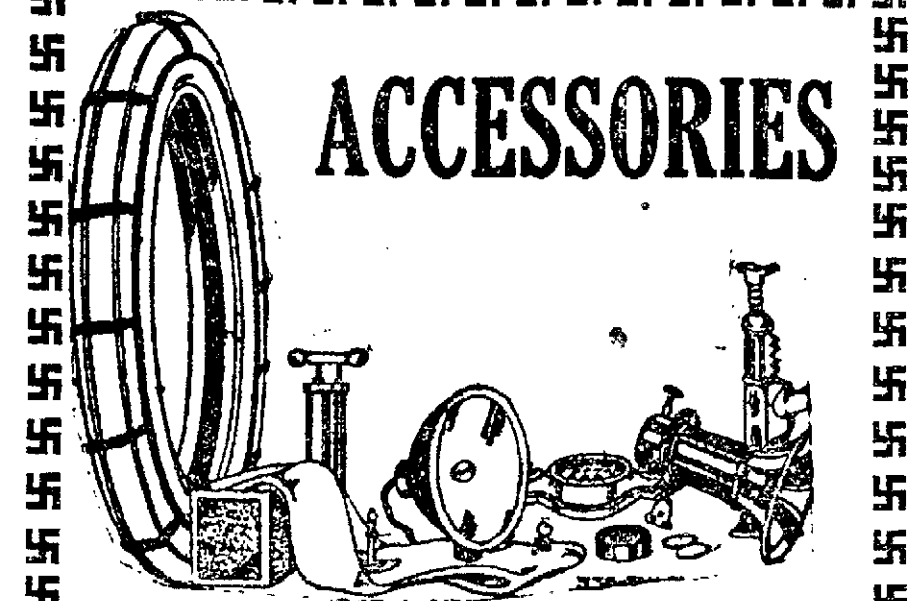

tion of having solved the problem of cheap transportation more satisfactorily than any other city, says a report to J. H. Simpson, Elyria Ford distributor.

Operating within a territory whose radius is little greater than a mile, eight thousand Ford Automobiles carry one or two persons between any two points in the circle for twenty cents. Under no speed limitations, the drivers are left to their own fate, rushing back and forth through the streets, but their feet and hands have become so highly developed that they can swerve out of one another's way more adeptly than can be imagined.

Besides, Cuban upholsterers have transformed the Ford, Mahogany replaces the metal of the tonneau, fancy carpet for the floor, and in a single car may be seen the whipcord for the body upholstery, many colored leather for the seats, or six different shades of leather.

Twenty-five thousands cars were turned out in 1920 and the new plant will have a 35,000-car maximum capacity. The new factory group is said to be one of the most modern motor vehicles plants in

LABOR PICKS DELEGATES TO UNION MEET

LORAIN, Jan. 21.—Fifty delegates of the Lorain County Building Trades met in session at the Carpenter's Hall, 112 Nineteenth street last evening, with President Kaiser presiding. This move has been contemplated for some time, as it will be the means of bringing the different organizations in closer relationship. The Building Trades has the reputation of being the best attended and the strongest organization in the County of Lorain, and the C. L. U. of both Lorain and Elyria should feel proud of having the backing of the council.

THE NEED FOR AUTOMOBILE TRANSPORTATION.

"The number of automobiles purchased and used will continue to increase as long as population increases," says Dick Dickinson, of the Central Garage, Lorain, dealer in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars.

"The automobile did not of itself create the need which it supplies. As necessity is always the mother of invention, so the automobile is the result of demand, rather than the cause of it.

"Transportation is essential to the progress of civilization. The more efficient the transportation methods employed, the more advanced civilization will be. And the automobile is the most progressive transport in general use.

"People have always wanted a personal conveyance which would make them independent of the common limitations of travel—time, disease, physical discomfort. That is what we have in the automobile. It has made old dreams come true.

"Railway and car lines alone could not supply the transportation for passengers and goods demanded today. Automobiles are sharing this responsibility, and fulfilling it even more efficiently by reason of their greater convenience and range of travel.

"More than that, they are serving in ways possible to no other means of transit. Today we see automobiles overcoming old limitations which other methods of travel have imposed upon business development and the useful activities of the individual.

"In this they complete man's personal equipment. Everyone who has ever used an automobile knows the feeling of independence it affords. And now that everyone is familiar with its benefits and how to apply them, it will play an even more important part in progress in the future than it has in the past."

Yesterday we DROVE today we RIDE Tomorrow We FLY

THE AMBULANCE—YESTERDAY THE INVALID CAR—TODAY

THE Injured THE SICK

Each successive step in its very fact, guarantees a betterment—hence its taking—otherwise the old routine satisfied.

As the operator of a horse drawn ambulance sought to provide the very best, so does the present day owner seek likewise to operate the best which his money can buy. Why? To render the greatest degree of comfort to the unfortunate and to exploit the reputation of the individual establishment.

How well we recall the horse drawn ambulance with its double bed and its emergency stretcher, its iron and even rubber tired wheels, its especially constructed springs in order to ease the jolts—the hand made ambulance in fact—so sturdy too, that many such vehicles are operating to this day, or the undertaker's wagon with its "hit and miss" cleanliness, hearse doors and funeral effects, with its drop seats and hanging straps and possessed with its rattle windows and stable evidences.

Well indeed have we advanced. Grown from the pneumatic wheels of the horse drawn invalid car to the most sumptuous carriage which can be employed, luxuriant as a limousine invalid car, equipped as it is with its wheel-chair-cot, adjustable as a chair or bed and brought to perfection by its mattress, pneumatic or felted, its single width bed spread, sheets and woolen blankets, all of which is augmented by the electric heater or fan, as the season requires, the acme of perfection secured by its system of medicine cabinet, speaking tube and experienced attendants.

The modern institutions which lay claim to such experiences and practices, provide in this day a separate vehicle for the injured, the sick and the dead, and nothing is spared to see to it that the greatest degree of comfort shall be the portion of those compelled to ride in these conveyances. . .

Another feature, no matter how comfortable the patient may be made there is no pleasure in being thus conveyed, altho the Secretary of State has ruled that even a hearse is a pleasure car, and has so called the ambulance and the invalid car.

Were the readers perfectly well persons and were they to consent to lie upon the cot of such a conveyance and take a trip of several miles, this journey, despite its attendant, comforts and convenient surroundings, would develop into a tiresome journey, and we oftentimes wonder at the fortitude and the constitutions of many of our patients who are not well and who must be thus transported.

There is a vast difference in the manner of picking up a patient which cannot be dwelt upon at this writing. This procedure is an art, not learned in a day, and never at all learned by many who lay claim to such qualifications. The invalid car or ambulance operator gains his success as such, by the manner in which he handles his patient.

We have conducted this branch for the past quarter of a century, have possessed and operated the most primitive vehicles, as well as the very latest Invalid Coach and always specialize along those lines and therefore deem ourselves qualified.

It might be considered both interesting and valuable information to state, the prices paid for ambulances, invalid cars or coaches, range from $2,500 to $10,000 and that the averaging charge which is made for the transporting of a patient, especially long distance calls, is 25 cents per running mile.

YESTERDAY we drove, TODAY we ride and TOMORROW we fly.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

6-66 COUPE

Perhaps it is true proportion and deliberate grace that recommend this new car so strongly; perhaps it is its size, or convenience, or the completeness of its furnishings. Whatever the reasons, enthusiastic car owners are giving it their unqualified approval.

The advantage of a closed car lies in its daily comfort, in season and out. Such comfort requires ample ventilation for the hot weather and some source of heat for cold days. Temperatures, both high and low, are adequately neutralized by the equipment of this new coupe. In warm weather all windows but the rear are provided with mechanical lifts, which permit the glass to be lowered flush with the sill, or held securely in any intermediate position. The windshield, double ventilating, is provided with an extra upper storm glass.

The unlimited dependence on his car, displayed by the user of a fine automobile, is the sincerest tribute he can pay its builder. Such unconscious praise, however, carries with it an obligation on the part of the maker to build better and still better cars. We have labored unceasingly to make this new Paige coupe, chassis and carriage, a car without a peer. Now that the task is done we feel a touch of pride when of their own free will automobile connoisseurs and veteran owners tell us that this car, in both performance and equipment, is surprisingly complete.

The finest enclosed body in the world won't carry you a mile. So it is of primary importance that the chassis of a fine car should supply a dependable, even performance.

The coupe chassis is capable of even more than this. It will perform brilliantly without that sluggishness so often experienced in the larger closed models, for it has power and to spare, for rough going and the hills.

Over a number of years Paige engineers have been developing this chassis in an effort to obtain a uniformly excellent performance for a long period of service. Plenty of power was a prerequisite. The new power plant in every respect satisfies the demands made upon it.

PAIGE

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

6-42 COUPE

At best they were eye-sores, the closed cars of a few years ago. Heavy, clumsy, awkward, they made alarming demands upon power and fuel. They were designed, admittedly to protect against the elements. They did, nor claimed nothing more.

Today closed cars are as much in evidence at summer resorts as on winter streets. They offer every summer comfort of the touring car, with convenience and luxury that even the best of open cars cannot afford. They have the grace, charm and refinement that distinguishes only the work of master artists. To Paige, probably more than to any other one manufacturer, is due this revolution in closed car usages. In their very earliest models, Paige designers seized upon the opportunities offered in closed bodies for the expression of individuality, character, beauty and luxury that were inherent in Paige chassis.

To this day, the Paige models have led current closed car fashions. Others have created freakish fashions, exploited radical departures from Paige lines—but to designers who have expressed good taste, refinement, lasting charm, Paige bodies have served as an inspiration and an ideal.

Beneath the body is a dependable Paige "6-42" chassis. Its light six motor is known among Paige drivers and among those who keep in touch with engineering accomplishments, as the production of genius. In economy, dependability, endurance, stamina and lastingly satisfying performance, it has been a revelation to those who have demanded big, bulky power plants.

MODEL 490 TOURING

POWER

The question of power is important to the prospective purchaser of an automobile. He looks for power and pick-up "ability." To him the pretty car that stalls on a hill or in traffic is useless.

Chevrolet power is sure. The valve-in-the-head type of power plant insures it. This construction means maximum power for the reason that gasoline vapor explodes directly against the piston head. The gasoline vapor does not reach the explosive chamber in a round-about way. This is the reason for Chevrolet superiority over the ordinary L-head or T-head type of motor.

DURABILITY

The average buyer wants to know something about the life of his purchase, especially if his purchase involves considerable money.

When we are in the act of purchasing anything, and it does not make much difference what it is one of the first thoughts that enters our minds is the question, "Will the article endure—last—will it give satisfactory service?" How long will a Chevrolet last?

The use of steel at every point that must stand wear, where unusual strength is necessary, or where the strain is severe, is sufficient evidence that long life is assured.

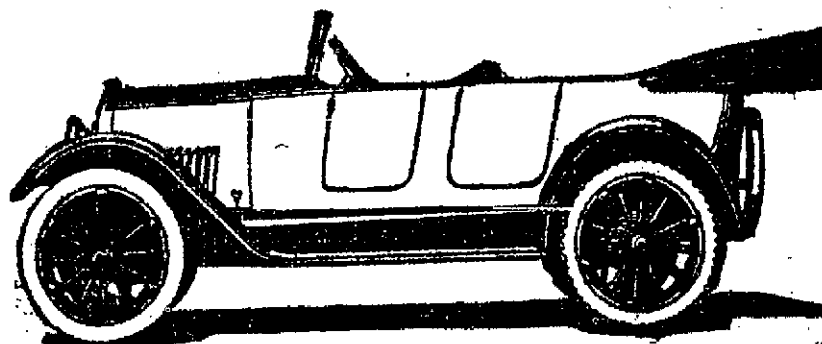

And this same care has been exercised in the selection of material used in the lowest priced Chevrolet car is as good as can be found in any car regardless of price.

Not only has the necessary care been taken to insure mechanical durability, but equal attention has been given to body construction, upholstery, finish and all details.

We use every precaution in the selection of material and we make sure of it after it is received by us. The inspection system is most thorough, and not a single item is passed on to the manufacturing department that does not come up to the required standard.

THE HAYNES AT THE AUTO SHOW

The chassis of the new Haynes Fifty will be shown at the Automobile show this year.

The Haynes Fifty is the name of the new car which is the longest, smallest and lighter Haynes.

Though modeled on lines similar to the larger Haynes car, the Haynes Fifty has a 121-inch wheel-base and is built in only one style, the five-passenger touring car. The power plant of this Haynes is the famous Haynes Six motor which assures safety of speed and power under conditions. The sturdy chassis characteristically Haynes with all the rugged strength that the name implies. The Haynes is sold in Elyria by the Central Garage.

YOUNG HUSTLER TO HELP GEORGE

The following item appeared in the monthly issue of the Great American Magazine: Floyd Mattox, a well known Mansfield young man, has gone to Elyria where he will be connected with the agency of S. J. George, Great American representative there. He will devote his efforts to automobile insurance, and, as he is a young man of pleasing personality, who makes a good impression on those he meets, he should be highly successful in Elyria. Although he has been there but a week, he has already written several applications.

Have Your Favorite Perfume in Limousine

Many of the New York shops have borrowed an idea from French motoring enthusiasts, who simply cannot abandon the subtle odor of their favorite perfume even in the limousine, says Motor Life.

The French maid hangs a perfume burner between the windows of her limousine where the American girl usually hangs a flower vase. It is a slender vessel of soft silver-plated or gold-plated finish, exquisitely wrought to do justice to the most luxurious interior of motor vehicles. The little tube is filled with one's favorite perfume, the wick is lighted, and shortly the fragrance, mysteriously faint, of one's favorite odor wafts through the tonneau from the open top of the burner.

Hudson

A Super-Hudson

Nearly five years ago when the first Super-Six model of the Hudson appeared we claimed it to be "the superior type which all must concede."

Today more than 80,000 Hudson Super-Six owners and scores of official records reveal the truth of that prophecy.

Hudson originated through the Super-Six a principle which added 72 percent to power and 80 percent to motor efficiency. It reduced vibration almost to nil and thereby increased motor life. The forces which in other types destroy are in the Super-Six motor directed to useful employment.

Each successive Super-Six model has added to Hudson's leadership. Each Hudson has become even more dependable, and now it seems to be as nearly perfect as it is possible to make an automobile. Owners have helped in the development. They have suggested improvements which they have said would make Hudson the greatest car ever built.

Look about in any assemblage of fine automobiles and note the dominant distinction of Hudson.

Remember the Super-Six motor made Hudson the largest selling fine car in the world. It attained that position within six months after its first showing in 1916 and it has held it ever since.

Essex

A Greater Essex

The Essex has established a distinct new type among the fine cars of motordom. It has proved that great size and weight are needless to fine car quality. With the Essex you sacrifice no pleasure, comfort, or performance ability that the large, higher-priced car can give.

Of the legion who know and praise Essex performance, none express more satisfaction than former owners of large, costly cars.

At first, these owners were skeptical, now they appreciate the way Essex combines light car advantages with the qualities of comfort and flexible performance they knew and formerly considered exclusive in their big car. They take joy in its liveliness and ease of handling.

And now time has proved how Essex retains those wanted qualities of silence, smoothness and power even after hardest service. Many owners in the first year drove their Essex cars 16,000 to 18,000 miles—some, more than 20,000. Such proofs are convincing of Essex endurance.

You can match some of the Essex qualities in other cars. You can get its speed, its power, even its endurance. But not at its price, nor with its light car advantages of low upkeep and operating cost.

Japan Gets Ford Assembly Line

Saturday, October 9, was a great day in industrial Japan, for it marked the assembling of the first Ford car of a progressive assembly line similar to those used by the Ford Motor company in its various American branches, says a report to J. H. Simpson, local Ford distributor. The line was installed by Sale & Frazar, Ford dealers for the Japanese Empire, in their Yokohama branch, for the purpose of assembling faster and more economically the knocked down cars which they receive from the Ford foreign department in

NAMED PRESIDENT OF BOXING BODY

W. E. Liginger was chosen president of the National Boxing Association, recently formed by boxing promoters and boosters from sixteen states, at a meeting in New York. The association aims to place boxing under uniform rules throughout the country and, by cooperating, put the game on a higher plane by dealing severely with unscrupulous boxers, managers and promoters.

New York City. It is equipped to handle a maximum of 200 Ford cars a month.
Many of Sale and Frazar's employees, besides a number of specially invited guests, attended the event. Motion pictures were taken of the chassis as it grew from frame to completed car, ready to leave the line under its own power. The Japanese gazed with interest at the assembling as the car moved along, growing more complete with each man's work. Following the completion of the car, a banquet or "show" as it is known there, was given the Japanese workmen. Altogether, it was a big day.
No use talking, at the speed leather is going up it will soon be cheaper to buy a motor car than to walk!
The scandal of the price of gasoline smells to heaven.

Improvements Not Changes in Buicks

The 1921 Buick offers as many improvements as have been adopted in the entire past five years. "These are only improvements, and not radical changes," the Elyria Buick Co., Elyria distributors, point out.
As in past years, there is an absence of radical departures or untried changes in the new Buick line. The improvements after exhaustive tests have proved practical and related to the Buick chassis.
The feature of the Buick automobile show display will be the new four-passenger coupe, a new model and type. It has the unusual feature of enabling four people to sit comfortably, at the same time giving an unobstructed view of the windows. The fourth arm-seat is disappearing.

This car has a 124-inch wheel base. Other units in the show display are: Roadster, five-passenger touring car, small coupe, five-passenger sedan.
PROTECTION AGAINST ANNUAL SHORTAGE OF MOTOR CARS
"History is repeating itself in the automobile business," says H. F. Dickinson of the Central Garage, Lorain, O., dealer in Paige cars.
"Every Spring there is increased demand for motor cars. A shortage results. Usually there are not enough to go around. The purchaser who plans to buy one type of car must often change his choice or suffer a long wait for delivery.
"This same condition will be true this year. And those with common sense are profiting by previous experience to avoid inconvenience to themselves. No matter when they expect to take delivery of their car, they are placing orders now as to be sure of what they want when they want it.

"The manufacturer cannot tell just what kind of car you want and just when you will decide. He cannot give you complete, intelligent and satisfying service until you tell him.
"So he produces a conservative number of cars and then begins that begin to come in. Whether you get yours in the first or the second class is up to you.
"This season's models are now well established. Their qualities have been tested in service. You have heard what your neighbors have to say about them. There will be no change in the next few months.
"There is time to inspect them now and to choose at leisure. And your choice now will protect you from the effects of the annual Spring shortage of automobiles."

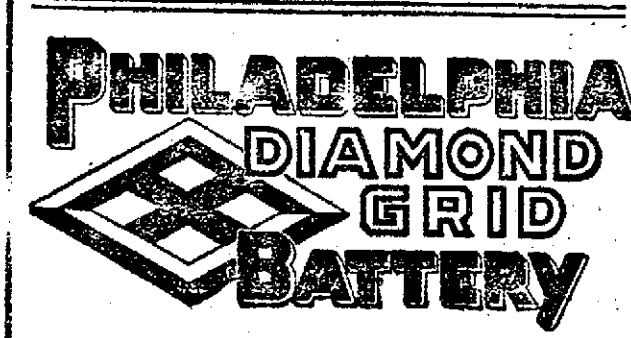

Brass polish is the best to be applied sparingly and then rubbed in and off.
The gent who slaps mud on his automobile spreads trouble. Generally the man who does so a dollar note too high for him.
When it comes to a motor car, possessors of misinformation expense it liberally. powered Corv's la brdia (wings) You can't figure from high-powered vests. Many a polished hood covers a bum motor.
Motors are much like men—the less character they possess the more noise they make.

THE NEW STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX meets the long existing demand for a comfortable, durable and economical light-weight six-cylinder car at an extremely low price. The public has always wanted such a car—the NEW LIGHT-SIX SATISFIES THAT DESIRE.

Although this new six-cylinder car weighs but 2500 pounds, it is so perfectly balanced that its roadability is remarkable—there is no side sway or creeping—it drives straight as an arrow.

At all driving speeds, the NEW LIGHT-SIX is freer from vibration than any car of its approximate size or weight yet produced.

Power with smoothness of operation has been the dominant idea in the construction of the NEW LIGHT-SIX motor. Because of its exclusive features it is most efficient in utilizing low grades of fuel now on the market. Its completely machined crank-shaft and connecting rods will not be found in any other moderate priced car yet produced in this country. This construction reduces wear and strain on the bearings and moving parts, and means longer life and smoother riding qualities.

You can have the advantage of this motor's wonderful gasoline economy and the satisfaction of its smoothness of operation only by owning a STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX.

Visit our exhibit at the show where you will have an opportunity to inspect this great car—our mechanical experts will gladly explain the many original features of its construction.

SCOTCH HONOR MEMORY OF BURNS

Five Hundred Residents of County
Honor Bard With Both
Song and Story.

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Five hundred members of the Scottish Clans, the Daughters of Scotland and the Daughters of the Empire, with their families and invited guests, held their annual Robert Burns banquet at G. A. R. hall Thursday evening, and with song and story paid tribute to their favorite bard.

Also Spark, past chief of the Clan, presided and bid everyone welcome. An excellent program was presented and Alex Anderson proposed the Immortal Memory, in a neat speech. ## ASSERTS WORLD DISARMAMENT FAVORED

Henry White, Former Ambassador to France, Says Nations of World Are Tired of High Taxes Caused by War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Staggering burdens of taxation resulting for the world war have caused the peoples of all nations to favor a world agreement on disarmament. Henry White, former ambassador to France, and a member of the American peace commission to Paris, declared today before the house naval committee is conducting hearings on this subject.

"I think the world is crying for some agreement," said Mr. White, "but I do not favor the United States being the only nation to disarm."

The United States, he added, should take the initiative in the disarmament movement and the conference should be held in this country. Any gathering looking to general disarmament should include France and Italy as well as the United States, Great Britain and Japan, the former ambassador said, but discussions looking to a reduction of naval building only at least, to Great Britain, Japan should be limited, for the present and the United States.

"I think it would result in chaos if all nations of the world were to be represented at the proposed conference," said Mr. White.

Mr. White said it would not be advisable to issue the call for the proposed conference until after March 4, because a call by President Wilson "might not be treated seriously as he is a retiring president."

"The general impression I got abroad was that all nations desire to reduce their military establishments," Mr. White continued, adding that he saw no objections to a "naval holiday" while disarmament was being discussed.

General Pershing's views on disarmament will be sought by the committee next Tuesday.

Do you know—have you ever heard of—any other motor truck that has to its credit an authenticated record of 50,000 miles in actual, every-day service carrying its capacity load?

Now consider this record.

One Reo "Speed-Wagon" now has to its credit more than 330,000 miles—and still adding to that mileage daily—that's thirteen times around the world.

It is one of a fleet of passenger busses running between Los Angeles and Anaheim on a daily schedule as regularly as any railway train.

In the same city—Los Angeles—is a fleet of ten Reo "Speed-Wagons" each of which now has an average of over 150,000 miles!

These latter are engaged in picking up and delivering laundry.

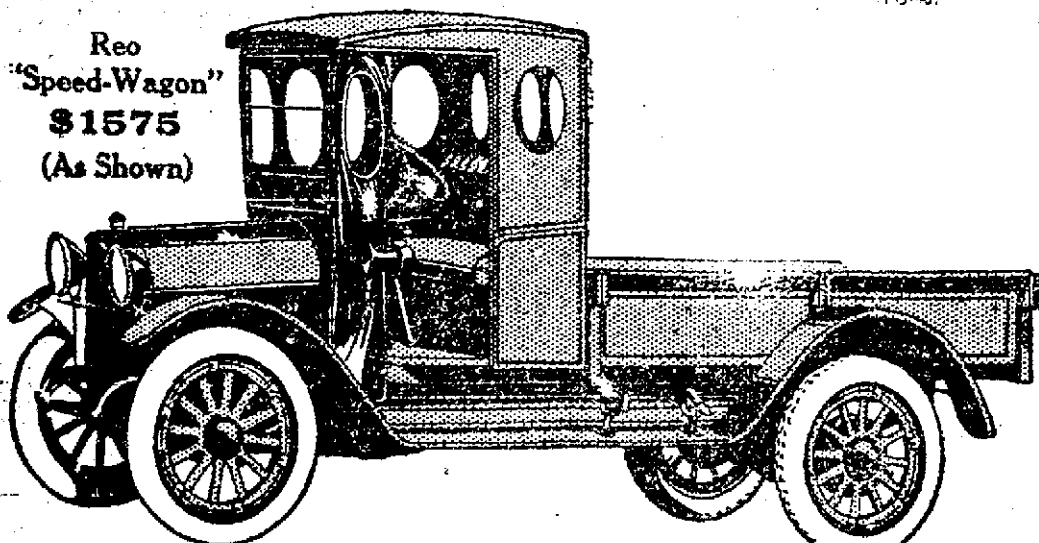

Do you know of any other Motor truck that has, or can, equal those records made by Reo "Speed-Wagons" in every-day service?

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR JAN. 23

Text: Matthew 20: 17-28.

A REVOLUTIONARY TEACHING

The teaching of the text for the International Sunday School lesson on January 23 is Revolutionary to the opinion of many men. In the twenty-seventh verse it is stated, "And whosoever will be first among you shall be your servant." Yet while many men believe this teaching, from the practice of it by other men has come the refining customs of our civilization. The "heart" interests which are manifested in our legislation, in our benevolent institutions and in our foreign relief work, grow out of the conviction on the part of some that "service" is the true goal for human activity. Because there are many in whose breasts the fire of this ideal has never been kindled, our civilization continues to be permeated with much that is barbarous and inhuman.

The truly great leader has the social imagination which enables him to treat other men sympathetically and help fully. In addressing the Lorain High school graduating class on Wednesday of this week, Bishop Francis J. McConnell said, "The great leader of today is the man who possesses the power of social imagination and who is willing to put himself in the other man's place when deciding questions. A league of nations no anything else will save us from wars unless the men behind it have the spirit, power and willingness to study the great questions of the day from the other man's viewpoint."

The contrast between a ruler who used his power without any social imagination of service and a ruler who exercised such imagination appears in stories told of Lenin, present ruler of Bolshevik Russia, and Abraham Lincoln. According to the January number of the Atlantic Monthly, one night five boys were brought to Lenin in his room at the Smolny. Their crime consisted in the fact that an officer's epaulet had been found in their possession during a search. Neither at the Soviet nor at the Tribunal did they decide what to do with them. Some insisted that they should be let go; others wanted them shot; still others wanted them detained until morning. What would Comrade Lenin say?

Without interrupting his writing, Lenin moved his head slightly toward them and said—

"Why do you bother me with such trifles? I am busy. Do anything you think necessary with them."

In comparison with this story of Lenin, consider Ida M. Tarbell's account of Lincoln's interest in condemned soldiers. "The time Lincoln gave a listening to the intercessions of friends in behalf of condemned deserters, the extent of his clemency, is graphically shown in the manuscript records of the War Department which refer to prisoners of war. Scores of telegrams are filed there, written out by Lincoln himself, inquiring into the reasons for an execution or suspending it entirely. In sending these orders for suspension of execution, the President frequently went himself personally to the telegraph office and watched the operator send them, so afraid was he that they might not be forwarded in time."

The teaching of this Sunday school lesson is revolutionary indeed to the views prevailing among a great number of people, but it is revolutionary for peace and order and for human progress.

New federations are being organized very rapidly throughout the country. Almost every day another one is reported formed. Through the relationship between the local church federations or councils and the state and national councils it is believed that adequate machinery exists to promote needed interdenominational and community work.

An era of greater understanding, fellowship and co-operation between different churches and different denominations is foreshadowed in the activities of the Federal council and its affiliated organizations.

Get right with God and then identify yourself with some church and boost. Any church will be glad to assist you in finding the Savior if you will give them a chance. Why not begin to seek now?

America Means Life to These Hungry Children of Far Poland

Bread lines are still a tragic necessity in Poland. In fact more than 3,500,000 children are ill or hungry in Eastern and Central Europe. This photograph shows a line of war orphans in Poland waiting for their only meal of the day at an American relief station. These stations will have to be discontinued unless the European Relief Council is able to raise $33,000,000 to feed and care for these youngsters until the next harvest in September. The co-operating agencies forming the Council are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Unless the call is heeded immediately the Council will be unable to feed these innocent youngsters. Contributions are being received by your local committee or Franklin K. Lade, treasurer of the Council, who has offices at 42 Broadway, New York City. Herbert Hoover is chairman of the Council.

OBERLIN NEWS

LATEST SCHOOL BUILDING IS OUTLINED

OBERLIN, Jan. 22.—Professor N. L. Englehardt of the department of school administration in Columbia University and a noted authority on the educational equipment of high schools spoke at Sturgis Hall, Thursday evening.

Prof. Englehardt spent all Thursday visiting the site for our new high school building.

He gave statistics to show in what ways our school buildings are lacking, for example in the matters of light, floor space and fire protection.

Considering the type of pupil in Oberlin, he proposed a six year High School course, including the seventh and eighth grades, also the rapid promotion system, now coming into use.

With reference to building equipment, he gave four specific needs, first an auditorium, where the spirit of co-operation could be developed. This should not be larger than the total number likely to be enrolled, say about six hundred.

Second, classrooms for the regular subjects should be built in three sizes, those for a class of fifteen or less, those for twenty five or less pupils and those for thirty five or less. Third, the physical care of children should take an important place in our schools. There should be shower baths, dressing rooms and rooms for the care of visiting teams. He discouraged the provision for separate gymnasiums for boys and girls indicating that one gym could be used alternately for both.

Fourth, the vocational education of our children should not be neglected. Give the girls a food laboratory, a clothes laboratory, and a housewifery laboratory. These do not require specially constructed rooms, ordinary classrooms can be altered to serve this purpose.

He proposed to take the best building on the site and use it as a model house-keeping establishment, letting the girls and boys of each class prepare the equipment as far as possible and then at the end of the year, sell it at auction. The boys' work can well be arranged for in a shop built apart from the main building and added to by the boys themselves as need demands.

Prof. Englehardt congratulated the Oberlin people on the selection of a site furnished adequate room for buildings and play grounds.

American Academy In Rome Includes Oberlin On List

OBERLIN, Jan. 22.—Oberlin Conservatory graduates in harmony and composition have chance to win $1,000 fellowship in the American Academy in Rome, is the announcement which has recently come to Dr. Andrews from Felix Lamond, a member of the endowment fund committee.

The American academy in Rome has established a music fund similar in scope to the French Prize de Rome with the sole purpose of supplementing the work done in our universities.

Oberlin is one of the first five institutions whose approval and co-operation have been invited, says the letter to Dr. Andrews. The others so far are Harvard, Yale, Columbia and University of Michigan.

According to the notice the plan intended to embrace a national competition among our promising young composers who will be invited to send their works to a national jury. The statement reads, "The money is ready. In fact the funds have been obtained without expense to the Academy." To make clear the plan, the following is quoted from the Evening Post in New York:

"The successful candidate for the fellowship will have the option of spending one or two years in Paris the French government has offered free tuition at the Paris Conservatoire. He will then be taken to Rome and put in touch with all its musical libraries and manuscripts. He will enjoy the advantage of intercourse with the students who come to Rome from France, Great Britain, Germany Spain and South America. He will also have the chance to study the history of stage technique and he will be enabled to visit the great music centers of Europe under the supervision of a director. All traveling expenses will be paid by the academy and each prize winner will also get an annual honorarium of $1,000 for his personal expenses. He will be housed, too, at the headquarters of the academy in Rome."

'Officer 666' To Start Three Day Run at Colonial

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Priscilla Bonner—pretty and 19—made up her mind to go into moving pictures. She packed her suitcase, said goodbye to Chicago and started for California. She didn't know a soul in the West and she had never had any experience on the stage or in pictures. She just had made up her mind.

She is now playing an important opposite Tom Moore in "Officer 666."

Final Performance of 'Way Down East' at Rialto Tonight.

THE FAMOUS BALL ROOM SCENE IN 'WAY DOWN EAST' THIS ELABORATE SCENE, WITH LOWELL SHERMAN & LILLIAN GISH IN THE FOREGROUND, IS A SPECTACULAR FEATURE OF THE BIG D. W. GRIFFITH PRODUCTION

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—In the motion picture production of "Way Down East," which will close its engagement at the Rialto theatre tonight, David W. Griffith spent ten months of laborious endeavor and a vast fortune in the creation of wonderful scenes, said to be by far the most pretentiously ambitious that this unusual maker of screen classics has yet attempted.

As all seasons of the year are shown in a vast number of scenes and episodes, it was necessary to consume this unusual length of time and high-salaried artists were carried long on pay-rolls to be ready at the call for the filming of a scene when the weather conditions were perfect for this work. To produce the great snow storm and "breaking ice" gorge scene at the climax a force of engineers were employed for a period of more than ordinary time and even weather experts and men skilled in woodcraft were found necessary that all should be correct.

Enthusiastic throngs of prominent people flocked to the Forty-fourth Street Theatre in New York City for the premiere showing there and paid as high as ten dollars for a single seat. In this city there will be no premium upon first night reservations and there will be daily matinees and evening performances at scheduled and advertised prices.

It is stated that "Way Down East" represents Mr. Griffith and his art at their heights. The film even after the cutting and editing procedure yet entails twelve thousand feet of footage. The producer has followed closely the original stage drama tale of Lottie and Blair Parker and Joseph R. Grismer, but his elaborations occur in the visualizing of big scenes and spectacular incidents that in the spoken play were made known only through dialogue. This monster production is the most expensive that Mr. Griffith or anyone else ever made. It represents a total cost of more than eight hundred thousand dollars.

Tom Moore as 'Officer 666' in the way broke out. Miss Bonner reigned. "Father is a lieutenant-colonel on Major General Wood's staff and has been in diplomatic and army work ever since I was born. We had lived in Philadelphia, Trenton, N. J., Detroit and Washington. When the war came I went into Red Cross work, devoting all my time from 9 in the morning until 5 in the afternoon. "When the war ended I attempted to go back to my old social life but it seemed so empty. I realized that I had grown up and should be something, do something, and so I decided to become a moving picture actress."

"I came to Los Angeles without the faintest notion of the business. I had not heard of 'extras,' 'atmospheres' and the like. I secured a position playing in mob scenes. I made a living in this way, working by the day, first as part of a crowd in a street, then in a ball room scene and so on. One day I had the opportunity to play a 'bit.' That is I was given the part of a maid who walks into the scene and says, 'A gentleman at the door, Miss.'

"Charles Ray saw the film and remarked, 'I'll give that girl a chance to play opposite me in my next picture.' That's how I came to play with him."

"Clifford Robertson, casting director at Goldwyn's, had promised me he would give me an opportunity the first time there was a part suitable for me. The opportunity came in 'The Great Accident.' Then imagine my disappointment when they decided on editing the picture to cut all the scenes in which I appeared out of the story. But it was not my fault as I found later when I was given this excellent part with Mr. Moore."

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Scene from "The Good-Bad Wife"
A VERA McCORD PRODUCTION

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—Sidney Mason, who appears at William Carter, in the Vera McCord film production of "The Good-Bad Wife," has had a wide and interesting career both upon the legitimate stage and before the camera.

Mr. Mason was one of the prominent members of the cast appearing with John Drew the past season, upon the legitimate stage in the popular success of that star, entitled "The Cat Bird," which appeared on Broadway for several months.

Mr. Mason made his advent before the camera at the period when it was well nigh impossible to secure any of the legitimate stage artists to embrace this form of entertainment and his debut occurred in creating the opposite role to Miss Blanche Walsh when that famous actress was prevailed upon to appear in Tolstoy's "Resurrection." Shortly after finishing this production, Mr. Mason appeared with the famous star James O'Neill in the picture version of Dumas' classic "Monte Cristo."

He then covered a long engagement with the Gaumont Film Company; subsequently he joined the Fox Film Corporation, laying the leading male role opposite the Fox stars: Theda Bara, Peggy Hyland and Evelyn Nesbit.

Mr. Mason has also successfully appeared as the leading player in support of Olive Tell, Miriam Cooper, Violet Meserieu and Marguerite Clark, and his experience and fitness having been amply demonstrated in these various productions, he was selected from a large number of applicants to originate the leading male role in "The Good-Bad Wife," which will be presented at the American theater tomorrow for three days.

Ohio Federation W m n's Clubs

Next Year's Programs
As this is the time when clubs are planning their study for next year, the various state department chairmen of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs have outlined subjects they would like to see clubwomen place on their programs. A club desiring a miscellaneous program would have a most interesting as well as a most beneficial one by planning a program-day for each one of the 17 separate departments of the state federation. A study of these departments would give clubwomen a more satisfactory knowledge and a much broader view of what the state federation is trying to accomplish, and in that way clubwomen naturally would become more interested in the state body and of more service to the state and national federations.

The art department, Mrs. John MacKee, Springfield chairman, would have "Art" day for the opening day of every club calendar, the subject for that day being "City Planning." Mrs. MacKee finds that clubs are intensely interested in this subject. It has been suggested that an open meeting be held in celebration of "Art" day.

Mrs. Warren Williamson of Youngstown, head of the music department, hopes for a "Music" day on every program next year. She asks that the study for that day be "American Musical History." She wants every club to celebrate national music week, the week of Washington's birthday. An open meeting of clubs over the state music department an opportunity to be heard.

Dr. Josephine L. ePire, Lima, head of the child welfare department, suggests these topics for a "Child Welfare" day.

1. "The Scope of Work of the Child Welfare Division of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs." "Why a Child Welfare Committee in Every Club and Federation?" "The Need for and the Outcome of the Shepherd-Towner Maternity and Infancy Bill."

2. "The Pre-School Age, Who Cares?" "Ohio's Laws Governing Child Care of Dependents and Delinquents."

3. "Physical Education in the Public Schools." "The Under-nourished Child." "The Modern Health Crusaders."

4. "The Child in Industry under Sixteen Years of Age."

Ohio Federation Notes
Mrs. C. E. Myers, No. 216 Alden ave., Columbus, former president of the Bradamante club, the new executive secretary of the Columbus federation, is well known in state federation circles for her uniform courtesy and uncommon ability in handling of club questions. She will make an ideal head for the department of work for which she has been selected. It is generally believed.

Touching on industrial art and its value to a community, Mrs. John MacKee, Springfield, state federation art chairman, addressed the Sorosis club at Canton last week when "Art" day was celebrated. Mrs. MacKee's subject was "City Planning."

Mrs. Jacob Brenner, Youngstown, state Americanization chairman for the Ohio Federation, attended the December meeting of the Belknap Civic club.

Mrs. Steddie Gelsmar, Cincinnati, spoke to a large audience at the First Presbyterian church in Marion January 12 under the auspices of the Delphinian church in Marion January 12 under the auspices of the Delphinian club. She told of Americanization work in the Queen city, Marion public schools dismissed early in the afternoon.

THE WORLD'S WOODEN EAR

There was a little story in one of the papers the other day about some Chicago girl who had made a not too desperate attempt to commit suicide. After kindly friends had resuscitated her, she declared that if she died no one would ever know why she attempted the deadly deed, but if she got well, she meant to tell the world about it.

Alas for the poor little girl, it never occurred to her that the world didn't care one little bit about her troubles and will probably put on its wooden ear if she tries to tell it. But like a good many other self-centered people she imagined that her desperate act of martyrdom would somehow shock this same self-satisfied old world into a sense of her importance.

Whatever the trouble was, of course, the poor child was all out of focus or she would not have thought that any one but herself would be deeply concerned with her tragedy.

Telling the world one's troubles is a good deal like telling one's troubles to the proverbial policeman. He doesn't care a great deal. The thing that the little girl overlooked was that the only person to whom her misery was of any very real importance was herself.

Fortunately for our peace of mind there are only a very few people going around trying to commit suicide to get even with a cruel world. But there are a good many who resort to lesser forms of martyrdom for the same purpose, and they always fail to see that what they are really displaying is not so much the heroic spirit of the martyr as their own exquisite vanity.

For anyone who feels that he is so important that he can punish others by self-inflicted wounds is in reality indulging in that very ecstasy of self-pity which is always tinged with a sense of one's own importance.

Think of the women who tyrannize over their entire households if not exactly by resorting to suicide, yet by a consistent course of headaches and nervous attacks and devastated feelings which result in utter and complete indisposition.

If they die, one imagines them saying the world will never know. If they recover they will tell us what it is all about. But telling the world such troubles isn't half as important as telling one's self and setting the matter in the battle ground of one's own mind.

Akron South High Swamps Elyria "5" Last Night, 48-18

ELYRIA, Jan. 22.—One of the most spectacular exhibitions of basketball ever witnessed on the local floor given by South High of Akron last evening in defeat of the High School quintet by 48 to 18 score. The Akron team played so fast and shot so accurately that the Elyria boys were absolutely bewildered. No discredit should be attached to the work of the Elyria boys. They did everything they could. They gave everything they had. Every play was to the point of execution. Their efforts were of no avail. They didn't have the defense to stop a team like Akron.

Both looked awkward at the beginning of the game. They were confused by the respect they did not expect. The Akron team, with the exception of the Akron team, was a watch mark. The half ended 12-19 in favor of Akron.

The first half South had not any particularly good work. The Elyria boys would come and wipe out the seven point. The half ended 12-19 in favor of Akron.

LORAIN, Jan. 21.—Why don't the City of Lorain have an athletic club? This question has been asked time after time with no answer, but to no avail. Now most towns of the size of Lorain have clubs and associations of this description, and use these places to great advantage, as a place of this sort can be used for the culture of clean sports, and can be used as training quarters for amateur boxers from which much professional material is often developed.

Now an organization of this description, could very easily be formed and could be named the Lorain Athletic Club.

George McBride

George McBride is one of the "old timers" of baseball. And in his twelve years with the Washington club he has made himself solid with the American league fans. It is typical of Clark Griffith's sense of fairness that he named McBride manager of the Nats when Clark ascended to the executive office.

McBride was born November 21, 1881, and started his career in 1901 with the Milwaukee city league. In 1902 he was with Milwaukee and Kansas City in the A. A. and the following year played with Peoria and St. Joseph. He served the season of 1904 with St. Joe and then was picked up by the Pirates. The Pirates traded him shortly to the Cards for Jim Brain.

The Cards released him in mid-season 1906 to Kansas City. On September 2, 1907, the Nationals purchased him from the Kays.

He never has startled the league as an hitter, but is a brainy player and held his own with the star shortstops of the game until he began to slow up. He had been captain and Griffith's chief lieutenant for the last few seasons—handling the club whenever Griffith had to be away.

U. S. Exports Heavy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Exports from the United States for 1920 were valued at $7,288,000,000, as compared with $7,920,000,000 in 1919. Imports totaled $5,279,000,000 against $3,904,000,000 the year before. This left a trade balance for 1920 of approximately three billions of dollars in favor of the United States as against a balance the year before of approximately four billions of dollars.

U. S. Exports Heavy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Exports from the United States for 1920 were valued at $7,288,000,000, as compared with $7,920,000,000 in 1919. Imports totaled $5,279,000,000 against $3,904,000,000 the year before. This left a trade balance for 1920 of approximately three billions of dollars in favor of the United States as against a balance the year before of approximately four billions of dollars.

George McBride

George McBride is one of the "old timers" of baseball. And in his twelve years with the Washington club he has made himself solid with the American league fans. It is typical of Clark Griffith's sense of fairness that he named McBride manager of the Nats when Clark ascended to the executive office.

McBride was born November 21, 1881, and started his career in 1901 with the Milwaukee city league. In 1902 he was with Milwaukee and Kansas City in the A. A. and the following year played with Peoria and St. Joseph. He served the season of 1904 with St. Joe and then was picked up by the Pirates. The Pirates traded him shortly to the Cards for Jim Brain.

The Cards released him in mid-season 1906 to Kansas City. On September 2, 1907, the Nationals purchased him from the Kays.

He never has startled the league as an hitter, but is a brainy player and held his own with the star shortstops of the game until he began to slow up. He had been captain and Griffith's chief lieutenant for the last few seasons—handling the club whenever Griffith had to be away.

MERCURIES MAY BOOK WORLD'S CHAMPS

Buffalo Orioles, Winners of 111 Consecutive Games, May Be Seen at Lorain March 8 or 10

LORAIN, Jan. 22.—John Roth, manager of the Mercury club basketball squad, has received two letters from the Trysquare club of Detroit, Mich., and Oriole basketball team of Buffalo, N. Y., accepting the challenge that the Mercury club made public through the Chronicle-Telegram a few days ago. The Trysquare club letter reads:

"John Roth, Manager, Mercury Club, Lorain, Ohio.

"Will be traveling through Ohio in February. What guarantee can you give us for a game on Feb. 21 or 22, 1921. An immediate reply will be appreciated.

Yours in sports, M. G. SALASNEK."

The Orioles state in their letter as follows:

"Mr. Roth, Manager, Mercury Club, Lorain, O.

"Have March 8 and 10 open for games. Must have guarantee of $300 with privilege of accepting 2-3 of receipts instead. Kindly advise by return mail.

D. KELLIDEN."

These letters prove that the Mercury club has made a name for itself, not only locally, but nationally. The Orioles of Buffalo are the world's basketball champions, having won the Pan-American championship in 1901, and Olympic championship in 1904.

The Andorkas will meet Capt. Poole's team on the Temple alleys next Friday night. A good game is looked forward to as there is much rivalry between these teams.

I OUGHT A FINISH HIM IN A COUPLE 'AT' ROUNDS

JAN 22—JOHNNY MURRAY KNOCKS OUT JOHN 'KILBANE' IN THEIR COMING BOUT AT PHILADELPHIA

TOLEDO is the city where Dave first attained prominence when he met the fast Johnny Andrews, and held him to a draw in eight rounds. Andrews had met and defeated Joey Dailey of Erie, Bad News Eber of Toronto, and Babe Asher of Rochester. He has been offered bouts in other cities if he makes good.
